

URGENT NOTICE

The unthinkable has happened this Christmas

Christmas is almost upon us and the clock is ticking, everyone is getting excited and plans are in full swing. But its not all good news, disaster has struck and Santa has had a catastrophe. One of his elves has hidden all the presents and if Santa doesn't find them Christmas will have to be cancelled.

We are desperately looking for a brilliant team to save the day, find all the presents and make Santa and all the children happy.

It will take somebody with amazing powers and skills, who knows lots of other special people who want to work together as a team to find all the presents, which may be protected by secret charms.

Can you help? I'm sure you can!

Don't forget only Santa can unlock the magic, so come along disguised as him and save the day.
